Look Who's Living Next Door

by Andy Godin

Our first “Next Door” neighbors are Boyd and Sue Ferris of Collingville Way.

Boyd and Sue attended Loudonville High School where he ran track, was on the football team, and also played tuba in the marching band. At halftime, Boyd was the only band member wearing a football uniform. Sue was editor of the school newspaper, The Redbird. They met at the beginning of freshman year when Sue's family moved to Loudonville from Gates Mills.

After graduation, Boyd and Sue both attended THE Ohio State University, and they graduated in 1964—Sue in Arts and in Education, and Boyd in Commerce.

Boyd also received a 2d Lt. Commission and went on to Law school at OSU, while Sue taught high school English and Journalism at Hamilton Township and Hillard. After law school graduation in 1967, Uncle Sam called Boyd to active duty where he landed at Fort Richardson in Anchorage, Alaska. The military utilized his law degree in the Judge Advocate General's (JAG) office.

After serving his country, Boyd returned to Columbus in 1971 where he was appointed Secretary to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. He subsequently formed a law partnership—Muldoon, Pemberton and Ferris. Sue was director of the elementary education program at St. Peters Catholic Church. They retired in 2004.

Boyd and Sue married in 1965 and have two children. Their daughter, Beth, also graduated from Ohio University and is employed with a medical group at OSU. Their son, Dave, graduated from Miami University of Ohio and Capital University Law School. He is a partner in the Benesch Law firm in Columbus.

A few tidbits you might be interested in is Boyd's history in Soap Box Derby racing, and Boy Scouts where he earned his Eagle Scout award. Both the Ferris' and their son have Black Labs. Also, if you attended OSU you may have met Boyd as he spent 6 years as student manager of the Venetian Pizza Lounge and bar.

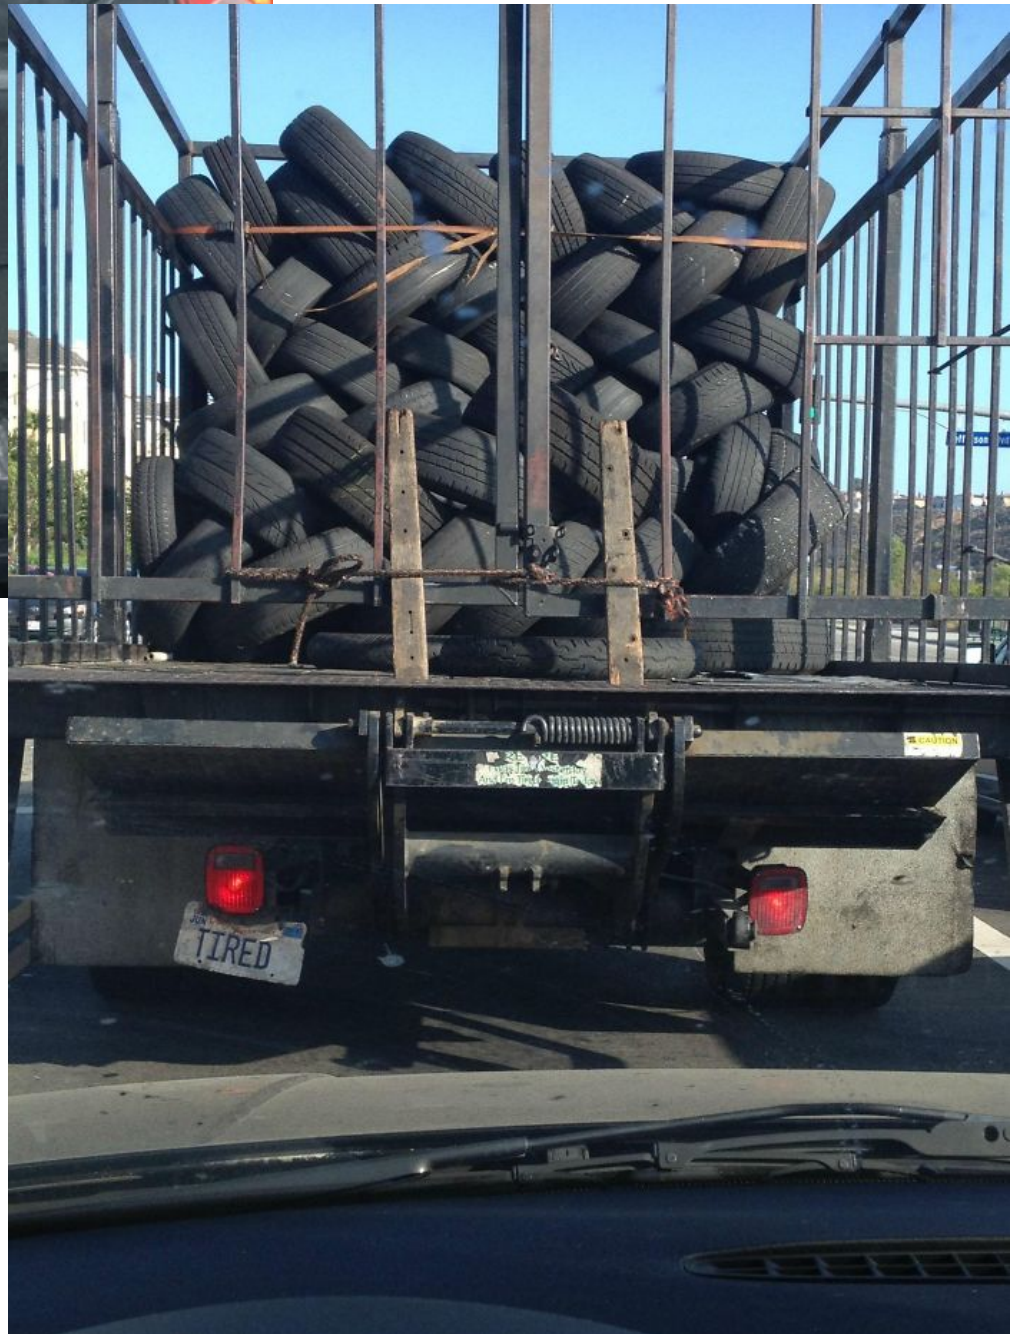

The Ferris' lived in Worthington and Buckeye Lake. They eventually purchased Marty and Jim Esselstein's Buckeye Lake home, then followed them to Collingwood in 2014.

You can meet the Ferris' at some of Collingwood's social events or watching their dog, Bea, roam around the common area along Collingville Way.
